TWO RICHMOND FAVORITES!

Jackie Frost is a long-standing favorite in the Richmond, Virginia music scene, having fronted several of her own groups and collaborated with Among Friends. She has performed at SGCH many times. Her album, Calliope, was a finalist in the 2006 Independent Music Awards. She'll be joined by virtuoso instrumentalist Doug Hepler.

Gene and Gayla Mills play new roots music—modern folk tinged with bluegrass and country, featuring Gene's award-winning original songs. In 2015 they formed the band Gene and Gayla and the Fireflies with Barry Lawson and Kent Ippolito.

Kent Ippolito has performed and recorded with numerous artists, including Stony Man, John Starling and Carolina Star, Laurie Rose Griffith and Peter Mealy, Stuart Whitford, and Vertical Land. He plays dobro and clawhammer banjo with the Fireflies, though he is most experienced on guitar and mandolin.

Barry Lawson has performed and recorded with The Honey Dewdrops, the Mill Run Bluegrass Band, and other regional and national acts. He has performed with Gene and Gayla since 2011 and appears on both of their albums.
