JOHN
MCCUTCHEON

The Shady Grove Coffeehouse

Presenting the best in acoustic music in a family friendly, smoke- and alcohol-free environment.

The Washington Post has described John McCutcheon as folk music's "Rustic Renaissance Man." One of our most respected and loved folksingers, he is master of a dozen different traditional instruments, most notably the rare and beautiful hammered dulcimer. John's 31 recordings have garnered every honor, including six Grammy nominations. In the past few years alone he has headlined over a dozen different festivals in North America, recorded an original composition for Virginia Public Television involving over 500 musicians, toured Australia for the sixth time, toured Chile in support of a women's health initiative, appeared in a Woody Guthrie tribute concert in New York City, gave a featured concert at the Smithsonian Folklife Festival, taught performance art skills at a North Carolina college, and given symphony pops concerts across Americas.

Tickets $17 in advance; $20 at the door

Net proceeds benefit UCC

Children 12 and under admitted free; teens 13-18 admitted at half price.
